Program Description	The BA in Literature equips students with a well-rounded background in English, American, and world literatures, as well as an introduction to critical theory. The program prepares graduates for a wide range of professions, including careers in education, publishing and editing, marketing, law, and administration.
Admission Requirement	Admission to the major is granted by the Department. ENG 101: Composition must be completed before admission to the major.
Advising	Students must earn a C or higher in all courses to count for the major.
Program Notes	In Years 1 and 2, students need to double count at least two 4 credits courses or three 3 credits courses to complete Gen Ed in 44 credits. Generally students can find some courses in Goal Areas 5 or 6 that also count for Area 7; some courses in Areas 3, 5, or 6 that also count for Area 9, and some courses in Goal Areas 3 or 5 that also count for Area 10. When goal areas are already fulfilled by double-counting, students can proceed to courses later in the program. Double counted courses can only be counted once toward the 44 cr, so if students finish all the goal areas but do not have 44 cr in gen ed, they must take additional gen ed credits from any area.
